

HOW YOU CAN FOSTER QUALITY PARTICIPATION IN PLAY FOR CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES ON PLAYGROUNDS

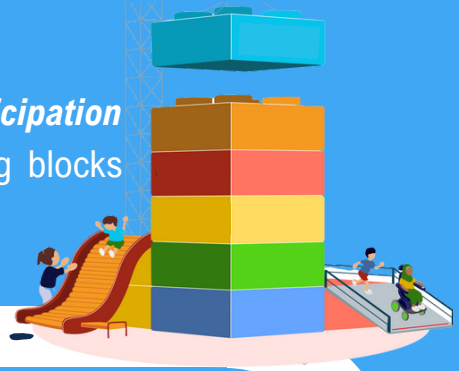

[PROGRAMMER VERSION]

1

IDENTIFY YOUR PLAY PHILOSOPHY

Use our Measure of Experiential Aspects of Participation (MeEAP) tool to determine which of the six building blocks you want to focus on first.

Try it out here: <https://bit.ly/3pGXIRs>

CHOOSE EFFECTIVE STRATEGIES

After you've prioritized your building blocks, use the Quality Participation on Playgrounds Blueprint as a strategy selector for facilitating quality experiences in play among children with disabilities.

2

3

GUIDE PROGRAM PLANNING

1) Choose the right playground

- An inclusive playground is a great place to deliver an intentional, quality program
- Learn what makes a playground inclusive here:

<https://bit.ly/3LZ3kby>

2) Create a new game

- Rethink old classics and integrate the strategies you chose above into a new game to ensure everyone is experiencing quality participation in play!

GUIDE FREE PLAY

- Remember, play isn't prescriptive, but does require some planning to ensure everyone has a quality experience.
- Use various strategies to facilitate free play and foster quality experiences in play for all!

Read the Quality Participation on Playgrounds Blueprint in full on the Canadian Disability Participation Project website at cdpp.ca

